THE "DEVIL'S" IN THE DETAILS

Dave Randash NPAA#29

Corey Heiser NPAA# 373

Don Denning NPAA#140

Chad Maloy NPAA #499

Over the last few decades, Devils Lake has swallowed houses, farmland, and anything else in its way. While this is very unfortunate for the local population, it has created one of the best walleye fisheries in the upper Midwest. With so much water there, it can be frustrating trying to locate and catch the elusive walleyes that are so popular.

On October 20th during the FM Walleye meeting at the Kelly Inn in Fargo, 5 local professional anglers will have a panel discussion on locations & presentations, tips & tactics, for increasing your odds on this rapidly changing body of water. Dave Randash, who is a guide on the lake, will lead the panel. Troy Morris, Cory Heiser, Don Denning and Chad Maloy all fish the Masters Walleye Circuit and spend considerable time trying to unlock the secrets of Devils Lake walleye fishing. The amount of "Devils" knowledge these 5 guys possess is simply amazing. If you have any interest in fishing this lake, you will definitely want to attend.

President's Comments...

Working the Big Cormorant Fall Classic from a volunteer's perspective.

Friday, setting up the tournament trailer, installing pumps, electrical cords, hoses and raising the Big Board and writing all 80 teams names and of course the rules meeting.

Saturday, day one of the Fall Classic, started out very early with boats arriving at 6:30am for inspection, than off to the Y Camp, by water of course! At 7:50am the roar from the first of three fights of boats, each released 15mins apart, can be heard across the entire lake as they start the tournament.

During tournament hours there is plenty of work (FUN) to do. Checking on boats, calibrating the scale and measuring and weighing tournament fish are just some of the things that happen throughout the day.

The crowd builds as the first flight of boats arrives at the Y Camp headquarters. Many bags of fish are brought to the scales in hope of a good starting weight.

Sunday, the final day of the Fall Classic, starts out with teams wondering if they have the right set-up to cash a check or better yet over take the leaders. The leading teams posted over 17lbs the first day, a good weight but they can be caught. The boats come back and their fish are weighed. Everyone listens as the official weights are announced. After all the trophies and checks handed out the day leaders hold on, with over 31lbs of fish for the tournament, to win the Fall Cormorant Classic.

Time to close up the tournament trailer, clean up the area and go home.

A VERY BIG THANK YOU TO ALL VOLUNTEERS!!! I'll see all of you at the Oct. 20th general meeting. Gary Sawageau President

2011 CUSTOM ROD RAFFLE

By Scotty Brewer

Max Johnson

The big day had finally come. The September FM Walleye meeting was the day picked to draw the winning ticket for the 2011 Custom Rod & Reel Combo. There were many people in attendance that had purchased tickets of which many were sold that night, and everyone was excited when the tickets were brought up front for the drawing. 5-1/2 year old Max Johnson, son of board member Scot Johnson was chosen to draw the winning ticket. Max reached in and pulled out a ticket purchase by Willy Lisburg of West Fargo. Willy bought his winning ticket from club President Gary Sauvageau who won a $50 Scheels Gift card. Gary then, out of the kindness of his heart, donated the gift card back to be given out with the other raffle prizes for the evening.

Congratulations to Willy on winning such a beautiful package and many thanks to anyone that sold tickets and everyone that purchased tickets. Thanks to all of you, we generated over $1000 to be used in the FM Walleyes University, youth education programs. Special thanks to Chuck DeRemer for building the rod, which many consider a work of art and to Scheels for supplying us with the reel. FM Walleyes Unlimited wishes the best of luck to all of you in next years Rod Raffle. Hopefully you too can be a winner.

FM WALLEYES UNIVERSITY KICKS OFF IN OCTOBER!

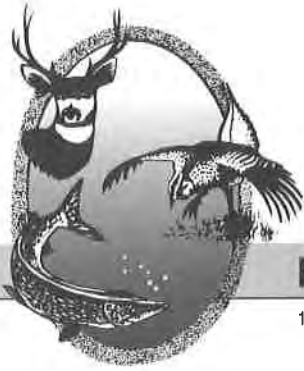

The first FM walleyes University of the 2011-2012 season will take place prior to the October 20th regular club meeting at the Kelly Inn on Main Avenue. The youth class will be held from 6:00 to 6:50 p.m. followed by the club meeting at 7:00 p.m. The class will be guiding young anglers in "Making Their Own Fishing Tackle". This topic has been a very popular one in the past, allowing the youngsters to learn how to tie snell knots for use in live bait rigging. They are able to take the snelled hooks one step further and build their own spinner rigs. In addition, there will be jig painting and spoon designing stations. Each participant will be able to go home with a tackle pack containing the tackle that they made, ready to go the next time that they head out on the water.

If your child, or another child that you know is interested in Participating in this class please contact Scot Johnson or Bill Carr, FM Walleyes Unlimited Co-Coordinator of the youth education program.

Dear Angler:

All too often letters or newsletters articles start with "Well it's been an interesting year". Forgive me for the redundancy but it HAS been an interesting year. Flood issues have taken center stage virtually in every section of our state. Given our tumultuous summer of rain and more rain ... and in-between Sportfishing Congress newsletters, I thought I'd provide you with a short, up-dated summary of bullets on the impacts and status to/of North Dakota's fishery to date.

- Flooding
 - Devils Lake – despite new record highs, Dept. staff and contractors were able to develop six ramp sites this spring/summer bringing the total to eight usable ramps.
 - Souris (Mouse) River – a 500 year flood event resulted in record, devastating flooding in Minot and Burlington. Appears Lake Darling's fishery may have been impacted somewhat but overall it still appears to be in decent shape.
 - Missouri River System (MRS) – record elevations and summer flows at Williston (Missouri River), Bismarck (Missouri River) and Lake Oahe. Total volume of water moving through the MRS makes it also a 500 year flood event. Of the past 1,350 months (dating back to 1898) this past June, May and July would rate number 1, 3 and 5 in terms of runoff! Ongoing concerns to the Department include serious public boat ramp access issues (primarily on the river), production impacts at the Garrison Dam National Fish Hatchery, reservoir high bank erosion and sedimentation, fish loss through the dam(s), impacts to the former Spillway Lake and Lake Audubon, and long-term and unknown effects to the river fishery due to potential changes to Missouri River habitat. Despite all the hardships and impacts of flooding, remember historically, the lack of water in the MRS has caused even more significant problems concerning the recreational industry and many other user groups.
 - Jamestown and Pipestem reservoirs – again record flows continue through these two dams and fish loss through the dams and public fishing access remain as concerns.
 - Red and Sheyenne rivers – it seems that one or many gauge readings on these two rivers have been above flood stage since ice out this past spring. Fishing access has been at times challenging.
 - Many, many other water bodies across the state – without doubt, numerous natural lakes in North Dakota are at all-time highs (since post-glaciation!). As a result, simple road access to many lakes has been challenging if not impossible at times. Further, a number of boat ramps remain inundated. Also, with so much water moving across North Dakota's landscape, undesirable species such as carp are now able to access new water bodies.

- The upside of so much water on North Dakota's landscape
 - With all-time record high water levels across most of the state, fish populations in our lakes will continue to benefit. Never has the state had so many different water bodies to fish.
 - Pike opportunities – we've experienced three consecutive years of record year classes of pike. Fishing will only get better in the months and years to come.
 - Boating access – despite the many challenges of too much water, our development crew continues to work with local officials in providing decent boat ramps at most lakes. Hopefully, by ice-up we'll be able to address most of the district lakes.
- Other
 - ANS – for the second year in a row, evidence of zebra mussels were found in the Red River area near Wahpeton. Thankfully, ongoing monitoring elsewhere in the state has not found new infestations.
 - Stocking - despite the flooding challenges to both Garrison Dam and Valley City national fish hatcheries their production was again noteworthy. 8.3 million walleye fingerlings were stocked into 88 lakes and rivers across the state and another 2.3 million northern pike fingerlings were also stocked into 53 water bodies.
 - Regulations – we have just begun assessing all past data/information for possible incorporation into the new fishing proclamation next year. Recommended changes will be brought to the fishing public at this fall/winters advisory board meeting.

As summer winds down I would again urge you to get out and do some fishing. Despite the ongoing flooding issues, there are so many quality opportunities spread throughout the state. Overall fishing reports have been tremendous especially given the fact we're right now in the traditional 'dog days of August'. Do a little homework ensuring both roads and public access sites are open – and then get after it and wet a line.

Respectfully

Greg Power, Chief

NPAA WELCOMES FISHING CLUBS AS PARTNERS

NPAA Fishing Club Partner Program

NPAA News Release

September 2011

Forestville, WI- The National Professional Anglers Association recently announced a new Fishing Club Partner Program. Pat Neu, NPAA Executive Director also was pleased to announce that the first club to join was the FM Walleyes Unlimited club of North Dakota.

He said, "We want to join forces with many other fishing clubs across the nation, and are proud that FM Walleyes Unlimited is our inaugural club partner." Equally excited to become affiliated with NPAA was Kyle Agre, a board member with the club. Agre said, "This is a perfect fit for us. We have a common mission of growing the sport. The NPAA is national and we're doing much the same on the local level."

FM Walleyes Unlimited was inducted into the National Fresh Water Fishing Hall of Fame earlier this year for their educational and youth efforts, for their tie-in with fishing promotions and tournaments and for their many decades of service in the Fargo-Moorhead region. Agre said the club consists of 350 family memberships representing about 600 individuals. The club formed in the mid-1970's.

Neu said, "Partnering with fishing clubs that already promote the sport is an extremely effective strategy to target the NPAA's efforts to grow the sport." He cited the benefits for clubs, including:

- Club news releases that will be forwarded to an email distribution list of 1,200 NPAA members, media and industry leaders.
- Clubs will receive no-charge booth space at the annual NPAA Annual Conference.
- Two Club member representatives will receive no-charge admission to the NPAA Annual Conference.
- Clubs will receive a link on the NPAA site to their website.
- NPAA will offer a Club Page on the NPAA Forums.
- NPAA will support one "future angler/youth event" for each club annually.
- A new-member discount will be offered for club members who join the NPAA.

Agre said FM Walleyes Unlimited liked the increased visibility, and enhanced media connections the NPAA offers. He also felt this new partnership would stir some folks into joining their club. He said, "The more we can promote fishing, the better off we all are." Go to www.fmwalleyes.com for more information.

The NPAA is a non-profit organization focused on growing the sport of fishing and increasing the professionalism of its members. Supporting partners include: Northland Fishing Tackle, Navionics, Mercury Marine, Evinrude Outboards, Yamaha, Lund Boats, Ranger Boats, The Next Bite, Toyota, Oahe Wings and Walleyes Guide Service, Outdoor First Media, Advanced Tex Screen Printing, Worldwide Marine Underwriters, FLW Outdoors, AIM, North American Media Group, Frabill, John Butts Outdoors, Prairie Pillow Sportsman's Lodge, J.J. CLUB MEMBERS DO WELL ON THE MASTERS WALLEYE CIRCUIT

The Masters Walleye Circuit wrapped up its season of qualifying events recently at Cass Lake, MN. Many local teams were fighting for Team of the Year awards, Divisional awards and births to the 2012 World Walleye Championships. The MWC only invites the top 45 point-accumulating teams that fished at least three tournaments (including 25 spots reserved for "Premier" teams that registered prior to the earlybird deadline last winter). 4 teams with ties to FM Walleyes accumulated enough points to qualify for the Championship to be held in October, 2012 in Prairie du Chen, WI.

Chad Maloy is going to helping the club with promoting our up coming speakers throughout the year. Thanks Chad!!!

Club Outings: Steve Hall shared an up-date to the August trip at Red Lake on August 20th & 21st. We had a lower turnout but those that came were presented with great food and company. The fish were moving around a lot and interesting that it was windy at night but relatively calm during the day. We all had a great time and look forward to next year.

Ron's Ranch: Gary commented that we had great prizes this year and wonderful weather. The food was spectacular and a fun time for all the adults and kids. Thanks Ron for your hospitality and the kids loved the pool!!!

Sponsorship: Kyle is in the process of contacting our club sponsors to up-date them with where our organization is going. Kyle is working to put an event together with sponsors to show our appreciation. More to follow.

Walleye University: Scot Johnson and Bill Carr talked about the youth program for September. We are planning a youth tackle building class for our September meeting. This will begin at 6pm before the general meeting. An e-mail and other contacts have been sent out to get the word out for this meeting. We look forward to having a lot of kids participate.

Custom Rod Raffle: Scott Brewer gave a report that we are on track with last years tickets at about $2,000 of sales. Thanks to all those helping to sell as all ticket sales provide funding to our youth education.

Dinner Dance: Tami came to give an up-date to the dinner dance. The band "Work Release" is coming back to play again. A lot o people really liked this band and we look forward to hearing them again. The date is set for February 4th, 2012. Tickets will be available soon. Contact Scot Johnson or Tami Stillwell for more information.

Cormorant Classic: Barry Chouinard gave an up-date. At this time we have 35 entries but I am expecting more as the date gets closer. 350 entries have been sent out for our tournament. We are still need of volunteers to help put this on. Please contact Barry or Tami if you can help. Barry was also checking into seeing if some organization or group would be interested in putting on a meal the Friday night before at the rules meeting. A possible fund-raiser for some group. If interested now or for next year, please contact Barry or Tami.

National Professional Anglers Association: Kyle spoke on how we sponsor the NAPP and they sponsor us in return. They want to expand their program by partnering with us. This would provide to us access to over 1200 e-mails for our newsletter, club admin paid, no charge at a booth conference and we could send 2 members.

Cost is about $250 annual and this would be a swap. This is only available to a few clubs.

Ron Sahr made the motion to commit to their sponsorship, Rick Mohan 2nd. All in favor, motion passed.

Nominating committee: Gary has asked for volunteers for this years nominating committee. Ron Sahr, Bill Carr, and Steve Hall said they would be part of this group.

NEW BUSINESS:

FM Walleyes Address: Barry made a motion that we need to change our FM Walleyes address from Ron Sahr's PO Box address to Barry Chouinard's. Scott Brewer 2nd the motion. All in favor, motion passed.

Ron Sahr had a wonderful gift dropped off to him from an old FM Walleye member, John Loman. 7 tackle boxes with lures in each of them. John wants these to be provide to the youth of our club. Our plan is to use them as prizes at a few of our club meetings. Thank you for your generosity John.

Kyle has been contacted by Kristine Hautman, the author of "Hooked on Fishing" books, about having a club member help with a booth at the FLW Walleyes tournament in Bismarck, ND on September, 24th and 25th. We know this is the same weekend as our Cormorant Classic but if anyone is interested, please contact Kyle.

ROUNDTABLE:

Scotty: Tami is looking for volunteers to help sell raffle tickets at our general meeting. Please contact Scott Brewer if you would like to help out.

Motion to adjourn by Gary Sauvageau, 2nd by Rick Mohan, All in favor, motion passed.

The next board meeting will be @ 6pm on Thursday, October 6th , 2011 @ the Kelly Inn on Main, Fargo ND.
